ESMERALDA HARWOOD & THE MWINTL TEAM

ESMERALDA HARWOOD

FOUNDER & CEO

Entrepreneur and executive fashion show producer whose vision brings together creativity, culture, commerce, and global connectivity. Originally from Leticia, Amazonas, Colombia, in the distinctive tri border region shared with Brazil and Peru.

Multicultural background shaped an appreciation for craftsmanship, heritage, design, and the diverse influences that define contemporary style. Throughout her professional journey, Esmeralda has cultivated relationships with fashion designers, fashion houses, brands, models, media professionals, executives, and industry representatives. Her leadership combines creative direction with a disciplined commercial approach centered on positioning, visibility, professional relationships, and long-term development.

As Founder, CEO & Executive Producer of MODA WEEK INTERNATIONAL (MWINTL), she leads the company with a clear objective: establish valuable connections between talent and industry while developing distinguished environments where collections can be presented, businesses can gain recognition, and new markets can be explored. Driven by faith, discipline, creativity, and perseverance, her philosophy is simple: create value, build lasting relationships, open new markets and transform vision into sustainable growth.

ABOUT MWINTL

MODA WEEK INTERNATIONAL is a global fashion platform connecting designers, fashion houses, brands, buyers, media, sponsors, industry executives, venues, hospitality groups, and clientele across key markets. Positioned at the intersection of fashion, culture, and commerce. MWINTL develops professionally curated runway presentations, showcases, exhibitions, and industry experiences designed to elevate market presence and facilitate meaningful commercial connections. Its structure extends beyond the traditional runway by integrating promotion, representation, networking, media, hospitality, and client development into a broader environment for professional advancement. MWINTL operates with a clear commercial vision: to create distinguished stages where exceptional brands gain visibility, valuable relationships begin, and ambition moves into the marketplace.

GLOBAL PRESENCE

MWINTL embraces an outward-looking approach shaped by the increasingly interconnected nature of the fashion industry.
Its productions bring together talent, clientele, professionals, and organizations from diverse countries and cultural backgrounds, creating an environment where distinctive aesthetics and perspectives meet within one professional setting. Through continued expansion into influential destinations, the company seeks to establish stronger connections between North America, Latin America, Europe, and other emerging markets, opening pathways for participating labels to reach audiences beyond their traditional territories. Each destination contributes a different dimension to the MWINTL experience while reinforcing one principle: fashion has no borders when the right connections are created.

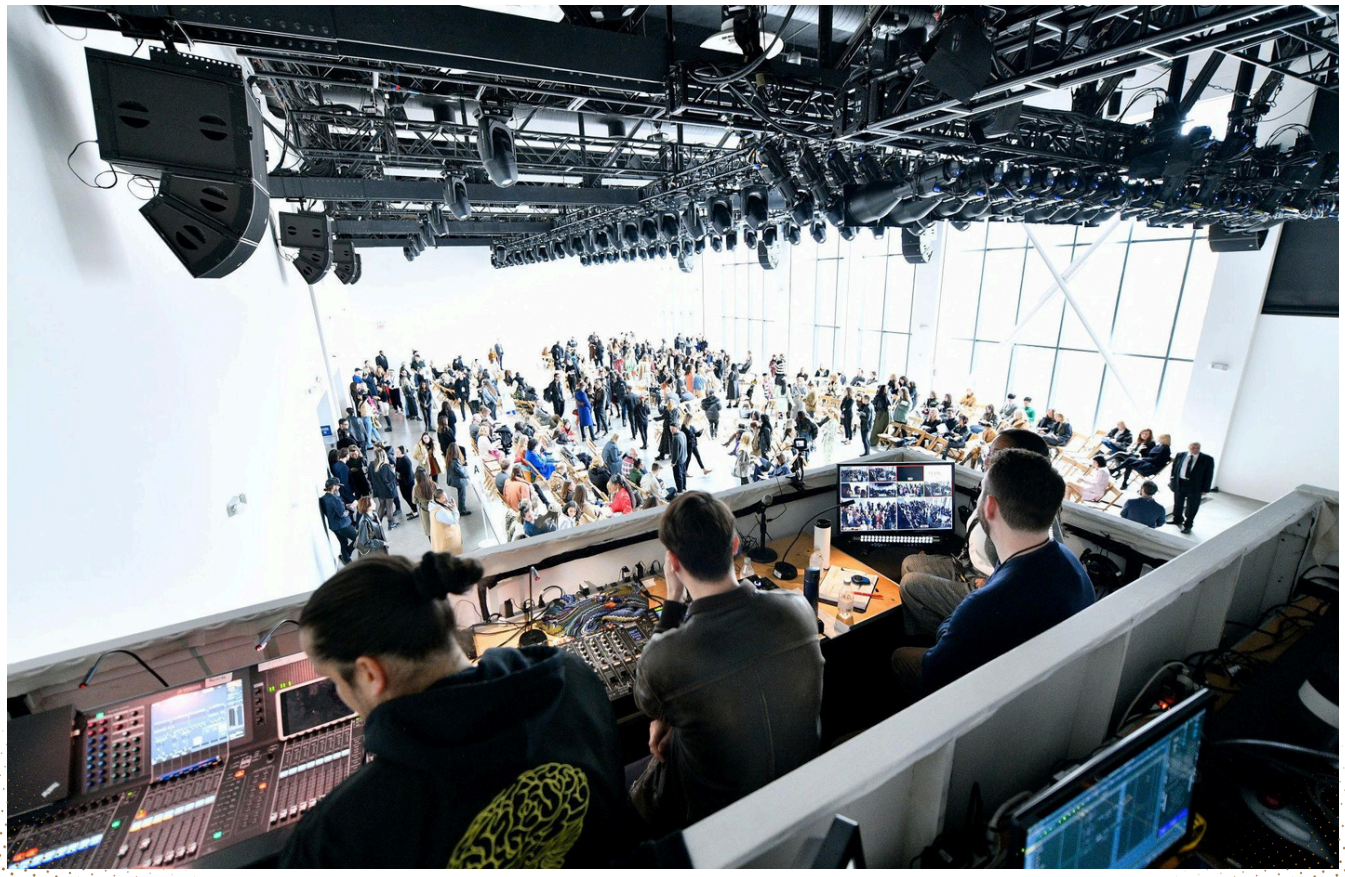
FASHION DESIGNERS & BRANDS

Designers and fashion houses are at the heart of the MWINTL runway experience. We welcome emerging and established labels seeking a distinguished environment to unveil collections, elevate recognition, strengthen market positioning, and reach broader audiences. Each participation is carefully structured to showcase the individuality of the label while providing access to runway production, professional models, casting coordination, hair and makeup, photography, videography, media exposure, promotional support, and industry connections. From haute couture and ready-to-wear to jewelry, accessories, evening wear, and specialty collections, MWINTL provides a sophisticated stage where craftsmanship, originality, and distinctive brand identity take center stage. Beyond the runway, our productions create opportunities for participating labels to build visibility, develop valuable relationships, connect with new clientele, and explore commercial possibilities within the wider marketplace. Our role is to provide the stage, production, exposure, and professional environment for each collection to make a lasting impression.

WHERE COLLECTIONS TAKE THE STAGE. BRANDS MOVE FORWARD

RUNWAY & EVENT PRODUCTIONS

MWINTL transforms creative concepts and collections into polished fashion experiences, coordinating every essential element from initial preparation to the final runway presentation. Our scope includes runway direction, model casting, fittings, hair stylists, makeup artists, volunteers, staging, lighting, sound, backstage management, photography, videography, media accreditation, and guest experience bringing multiple disciplines together under one cohesive execution. This structured approach allows participating clientele to remain focused on their collections and brand presentation while MWINTL manages the operational environment surrounding the show. From signature runway shows and exclusive showcases to exhibitions and special presentations, each experience is developed with precision, visual impact, organization, and attention to detail. From backstage to runway, every detail shapes the experience.



BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

MWINTL provides multiple avenues for designers, brands, sponsors, exhibitors, corporations, and industry professionals to engage with the fashion marketplace through tailored participation. Business opportunities include designer presentations, brand showcases, sponsorship, exhibitions, booth spaces, advertising, hospitality integration, media placement, corporate activations, and selected strategic collaborations. Each engagement is structured around a defined objective. Designers introduce collections, exhibitors present products and services, sponsors receive tailored brand exposure, while corporate clientele can integrate their identity within selected productions and experiences. This versatile model allows MWINTL to connect different sectors of the industry within one professional environment creating meaningful exposure, direct engagement, market access, and commercial value beyond the runway.

WHERE VISIBILITY BECOMES BUSINESS

INTERNATIONAL TEAM

Behind every MWINTL fashion show production is a multidisciplinary network of professionals working together to bring each event from concept to execution. Every production reflects the collective expertise, preparation, and commitment of people who understand both the creative vision and the practical demands of delivering it. This structure brings together executive leadership, production management, runway direction, model coordination, beauty professionals, photographers, videographers, media representatives, technical specialists, client relations, and event personnel. Each discipline contributes a distinct perspective and a defined responsibility, connecting creative development with the coordination required for a successful event.

Different backgrounds, cultures, and areas of expertise strengthen our approach. Working toward one shared vision, the team aligns the many elements of production from planning and rehearsals to backstage operations, runway presentation, visual documentation, and guest experience. Clear responsibilities, coordinated communication, and attention to detail guide every stage. It is the work of a connected team whose professionalism is reflected in the preparation, the presentation, and the care extended to everyone involved.

ONE VISION. MULTIPLE DISCIPLINES. PROFESSIONAL EXECUTION.

COMPANY BACKGROUND

MODA WEEK INTERNATIONAL was developed from a vision to create an independent fashion enterprise capable of connecting distinctive talent, brands, and creative professionals with broader markets through professionally produced experiences. Since its inception, MWINTL has grown across borders, bringing together emerging and established designers, models, artists, entrepreneurs, media, sponsors, and industry leaders. Its productions encompass runway presentations, exhibitions, networking, brand activations, cultural showcases, and strategic collaborations that provide participants with visibility, valuable connections, and pathways toward new opportunities. At the heart of MWINTL is a commitment to using fashion as a powerful bridge between commerce, creativity, and culture. Through its events, the company welcomes diverse voices and works to uplift communities internationally by highlighting local talent, honoring cultural identity, encouraging economic participation, and creating access to broader audiences. Each destination contributes its own character to the MWINTL experience, allowing regional creativity to enter a global conversation while fostering meaningful relationships among businesses, creators, and audiences. This approach transforms each production into more than a runway presentation it becomes a meeting point for discovery, exchange, representation, and growth. Guided by an entrepreneurial philosophy of adaptability, innovation, and continuous development, MWINTL continues to strengthen its presence within fashion, media, hospitality, entertainment, and related sectors. What began as a vision is becoming an interconnected commercial platform built to open doors across borders, cultivate lasting partnerships, elevate communities, and shape a meaningful international legacy through fashion.

KEY COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGES

MWINTL distinguishes itself through its multicultural reach, independent leadership, curated participation, professional production, and ability to connect fashion with broader commercial opportunities.

Rather than operating through a single event model, the company develops runway presentations, exhibitions, showcases, brand activations, networking environments, and tailored experiences shaped around each production and market. Its independent structure provides the flexibility to build relationships across industries, cultures, and destinations while maintaining a distinctive identity and consistent professional standards. Through NYCFS, SFW, AFW, and international collaborations, MWINTL brings together emerging and established talent, businesses, media, sponsors, and industry professionals within environments designed to encourage visibility, meaningful connections, and growth. The result is an agile international enterprise capable of bringing together the right talent, the right audience, and the right business environment while creating experiences that celebrate cultural identity and contribute positively to the communities it reaches.

BUSINESS & REVENUE MODEL

MWINTL operates through a diversified business model built around fashion productions, commercial participation, strategic partnerships, and international market connectivity. Revenue is generated through designer participation packages, exhibitions and booth spaces, sponsorships, advertising opportunities, ticketing, media services, and selected commercial collaborations. Through NYCFS, SFW, AFW, and future international productions, the company can adapt its commercial structure according to each destination, clientele, and market opportunity.

This flexibility allows MWINTL to serve designers, brands, exhibitors, sponsors, businesses, and professional partners through different levels of participation rather than relying on a single source of revenue. The model is designed to create value on both sides of the platform: participants gain presentation, visibility, connections, and access to new markets, while MWINTL generates revenue through the professional infrastructure, services, and commercial opportunities surrounding each production.
